Thank you for the email Renee. We continue to have internal discussions between City Health, Neighborhood Services, and City Development. The developer has been trying to set up a time to sit down with City Development (my agency) to discuss options but the date of the meeting has yet to be set up. Meanwhile, I have asked our City Attorney's Office to work towards a response to the developer based on health issues rather than financing so each department's answers are consistent; otherwise, nothing more to report.

Dave

Hi David,

I am following up on our previous conversation. You had indicated that you were going to further discuss your concerns about the Barclay site and let me know your thoughts for moving forward. Have you made any additional progress in these discussions?

Thanks,
